From the impressive sacral heritage to cozy cafes and aromas of traditional fare, a walk through the Upper Town of Zagreb delivers the very essence of Croatia’s capital.
Bringing history, culture and brimming nightlife together around green parks, serene courtyards and quirky corners, Zagreb charms with a lively vibe. After you meet up by the Ban Jelačić statue on the main square, or “under the horse” as the locals would say it, head towards the historic Upper town area. You will pass Kamenita Vrata (Stone Gates), enjoy a pleasant stroll and see the tower of Lotrščak, the church of St. Mark, and several present-day government venues. The Upper Town grows on you with each step, so count on coming back for more even after you have finished your Zagreb walking tour.
